e-JST

e-Journal of Science & Technology

http://e-jst.teiath.gr

- e-jst is a scientific electronic peer reviewed journal, publishing original scientific articles, in both languages, english and/or in greek, belonging to the category of periodicals of general cognitive objects (general subjects journal).
- e-jst constitutes an expression on the principles of free and open access and distribution of scientific knowledge and it is an alternative forum for the publication of scientific works in the tertiary Education
- e-jst was created in 2005 following a spontaneous and unselfish initiative of two teachers of TEI of Athens, aiming at the promotion and projection of the research, in an open and alternative way.
- e-jst is connected with international networks, as the DOAJ, as well as other institutions, which believe the principal of the Open Access to knowledge as the background philosophy and the actual materialization of the globalisation.

- e-jst is not a profit-making activity, included gratefully in the website of TEI of Athens and for its creation and operation has not enjoyed until now any financial support.